

Discover your new environment

The different campuses of the UPJV

The UPJV campuses are located in 6 towns in the Hauts-de-France region, north of Paris.

Several centres are located in Amiens. They house all the research teams and most of the UPJV's training components, some of which are located in five other towns in the region: Saint-Quentin, Beauvais, Laon, Creil and Cuffies-Soissons. This territorial network of the UPJV ensures equal opportunities for access to higher education and encourages exchanges with the socio-economic players in the region.

Download: Université de Picardie Jules Verne - Bienvenue en France

5 UPJV centres and one University Institute of Technology are located in Amiens

The Citadelle centre groups together the Faculties of Humanities and Social Sciences, Literature, History-Geography, Languages and the National Higher Education Institutes for Teacher Training (INSPÉ), on a historic site preserved and developed for the UPJV by the architect Renzo Piano.

The Campus pole, bringing together the Medicine, Pharmacy and Psychology departments as well as the Presidency and the university's central services, in the immediate vicinity of the Amiens-Picardy University Hospital and the University Health Research Centre where the UPJV's health research units are located.

The Cathedral cluster, housing the Faculties of Law-Political Science, Economics and Management, the Institute of Business Administration (IAE), Institute for the preparation for general administration (IPAG), at the foot of Notre-Dame d'Amiens Cathedral, a masterpiece of Gothic architecture listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

The Scientific Centre, which houses the Faculty of Science Training & Research Units in the city centre, in the heart of the picturesque Saint-Leu district.

The Health Centre, dedicated to academic courses in health engineering, speech therapy, orthoptics and midwifery, and housing part of the Faculties of Medicine and Pharmacy, in rue des Louvels in the city centre.

The Amiens University Institute of Technology, in the south of the city, close to the Campus.

5 other UPJV campuses are located in different cities in the Hauts-de-France region

In brief:

Institut supérieur des sciences et techniques (INSSET)
Aisne Campus University Institute of Technology (IUT de l'Aisne)

The Saint-Quentin Campus brings together courses dedicated to industry, the environment, robotics and digital technology. It has its own library and research centre. Its presence in the town of Saint-Quentin has made it a pioneer in the digital robotics sector in France (robotics, digital, connected objects)

In brief:

Aisne Campus University Institute of Technology (IUT de l'Aisne)
INSPÉ

The Laon Campus is home to a delocalisation of the National Higher Education Institutes for Teacher Training (INSPÉ) and several courses of the Aisne Campus University Institute of Technology (IUT de l'Aisne) in the legal and commercial fields. It provides students with, among other things, a language laboratory, computer rooms and a library.

In brief:

Beauvais University Unit (Faculty Training & Research Units (UFR) in languages, literature, sciences, humanities and social sciences)
Oise Campus University Institute of Technology (IUT de l'Oise)
INSPÉ

Located in the heart of the city, the Beauvais campus is home to the Oise Campus University Institute of Technology (IUT de l'Oise), the relocations of the National Higher Education Institutes for Teacher Training (INSPÉ) and the Faculty Training & Research Units (UFR) in languages, literature, sciences, humanities and social sciences of the Amiens clusters.

In brief:

Oise Campus University Institute of Technology (IUT de l'Oise)

In brief:

Aisne Campus University Institute of Technology (IUT de l'Aisne)
Science and Techniques of Physical and Sporting Activities (STAPS) unit

Discover Amiens and the other cities of the UPJV campuses

The UPJV campuses are located in towns with a human dimension, where it is good to live, study and work. Rich heritage, cultural diversity, preserved nature, varied leisure activities... There is so much to discover and do in Amiens, Saint-Quentin, Beauvais, Laon, Creil or Cuffies-Soissons!

Amiens offers a charming setting resembling a 'small Venice'. The city, particularly the Saint-Leu district, the heart of Amiens' night-life with its many cafés, bars and restaurants along the waterfront, is criss-crossed by the canals of the Somme.

A green and blue city, Amiens has a diversity of green spaces inviting you to stroll and relax: the Parc de la Hotoie, which houses the city's zoological park; the Jardin des Plantes, one of the oldest gardens in France; the Parc Saint-Pierre and its pond, a stone's throw from the Hortillonnages, 300 hectares of floating market gardens criss-crossed by 65 kms of canals; and the landscaped cemeteries of the Madeleine (where Jules Verne is buried) and Saint-Acheul.

Dotted with contemporary works, Amiens has managed to preserve its traditions and cultivate its fabulous heritage. It is full of cultural treasures that attract many tourists every year: the Notre-Dame d'Amiens Cathedral and the Belfry, classified as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, the mansion of the famous writer Jules Verne, the Musée de Picardie and its majestic collections, etc.

Amiens is also a young and dynamic city, which provides its inhabitants with numerous sports and cultural facilities to help everyone develop. Many events are organised throughout the year. Festivals, concerts, plays, shows, sports raids and performances of all kinds create a festive and friendly atmosphere in the city.

More ideas for discovery on:

<http://www.amiens-tourisme.com/accueil>

<https://www.amiens.fr/Vivre-a-Amiens/Culture-Patrimoine>

<https://www.amiens.fr/Vivre-a-Amiens/Sport>

<https://www.amiens.fr/Vivre-a-Amiens/Jeunesse/Enseignement-superieur/STUDY-IN-AMIENS>

<https://www.facebook.com/DestinationAmiens/>

The town of Saint-Quentin offers an exceptional alchemy in the diversity of its heritage, with its former Collegiate Church which became a Basilica, its flamboyant Gothic Town Hall, its Art Deco facades and its underground passages. It was the first city in France to integrate Art Deco into its post-war reconstruction. This exceptional heritage is promoted throughout the year through numerous events organised by the Tourist Office.

Nature lovers will appreciate the remarkable views that Saint-Quentin offers of the Marais d'Isle National Nature Reserve. This preserved natural site, located 12 km from the sources of the Somme, with its exceptionally rich flora and fauna, is the only town centre reserve in Europe. Since 2008, it has been classified as a "Special Protection Area" (SPA) for the conservation of wild birds under the European ecological network Natura 2000.

The city offers its inhabitants a rich and varied cultural programme, as well as sports and leisure activities accessible to all.

More ideas for discovery on:

<https://www.saint-quentin.fr/>

<https://www.agglo-saintquentinois.fr/>

<https://visit.saint-quentin-tourisme.fr/lg/english/>

<https://www.agglo-saintquentinois.fr/passionnante/le-parc-d-isle/la-reserve-naturelle-nationale-des-marais-d-isle-1106.html>
<https://www.saint-quentin.fr/1363-culture-sports-et-loisirs.htm>
<https://www.facebook.com/TourismeSaintQuentinois>

Beauvais is located in the department of Oise, north of Paris. The city has an international airport, Beauvais-Tillé airport, also known as Paris Beauvais airport.

Beauvais has an exceptional and very diverse heritage. From the ancient ramparts to the architecture of the reconstruction and the Gothic cathedral district of Saint-Pierre, 2,000 years of history and architecture can be discovered in Beauvais! The city and its surroundings offer a large number of tourist trails, shops, leisure facilities and places of interest.

More ideas for discovery on:

<https://www.visitbeauvais.fr/en/>
<https://culture.beauvais.fr/>
<http://www.beauvais.fr/>
<http://www.beauvaisis.fr/>

Ideally located at the entrance to the Oise Regional Nature Park, Creil is a pleasant place to live where residents can enjoy numerous green spaces, playgrounds and allotments.

Marked by the history of earthenware, the heritage of Creillois and its promotion are at the heart of the city's cultural and associative activities.

Numerous places and infrastructures welcome the inhabitants in order to allow them a cosmopolitan and intergenerational access to culture.

More ideas for discovery on:

<https://www.creil.fr/decouvrir-creil>
<http://creilsudoise-tourisme.fr/>

More ideas for discovery on:

Surrounded by state forests, 1h45 from Paris and Roissy-Charles de Gaulle airport, Laon has the particularity of having a wooded geographical centre and being surrounded by marshes and ponds. Perched on a hillock and surrounded by 8 km of ramparts, from which the Notre-Dame de Laon cathedral radiates for miles around, the city of Laon invites you to discover more than six centuries of history, with more than 80 listed historical monuments and its medieval city. Laon has many cultural and sporting facilities and organises numerous events throughout the year.

<https://www.tourisme-paysdelaon.com/>
<https://www.facebook.com/tourisme.laon>

A charming city of 30,000 inhabitants, Soissons is full of treasures! Although the episode of the Soissons vase has long contributed to its fame, Soissons is not only known in school books. Nicknamed "the white city" because of the many monuments built with limestone, Soissons is a true historical cradle retracing 2,000 years of history.

Soissons benefits from exceptional natural assets: its green spaces, its river and its architecture are jewels that have been preserved and enhanced, offering a remarkable living environment to its inhabitants.

Music & Dance Centre (Cité de la Musique et de la Danse), museums, sports facilities... culture, sport and leisure are not left out in Soissons! You will easily find something to occupy your evenings and weekends!

More ideas for discovery on:

<http://www.ville-soissons.fr/accueil-315.html>

Discover the Hauts-de-France region

The Hauts-de-France region is a welcoming and authentic region, combining nature, culture and traditions. It has 6 million inhabitants and attracts more than 9 million visitors each year, many of whom are lovers of nature and/or culture.

The wide variety of landscapes in the Hauts-de-France region has everything to seduce those who want a change of scene. There is a real mosaic to discover: forests, hedgerows, arable plains, marshes, immense beaches of fine sand or pebbles, fishing villages or relaxing seaside resorts.

Hiking enthusiasts will be delighted by the trails in the region's natural parks, for a relaxing, rejuvenating and peaceful holiday.

In the heart of the marvellous Baie de Somme, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, you can observe a colony of seal pups and many species of birds in the quiet of the seaside, especially in the Parc du Marquenterre, a privileged place for observing nature and animal and plant species.

In the Hauts-de-France region, you will discover the many cultural and architectural treasures of numerous towns with the "Cities of Art and History" label: majestic belfries listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, the majestic castles of Chantilly, Compiègne and Pierrefonds, famous Gothic cathedrals, medieval cities, places of remembrance... The list is long and you will probably not have enough time to visit everything!

In terms of gourmet heritage, you will have the pleasure of discovering a gastronomy that reflects the region, a simple and generous cuisine that can be savoured at large convivial tables. Between land and sea, the riches of the land offer a wide range of flavours, enhanced by traditional know-how handed down from generation to generation, or revisited by great chefs. Craft beers, cheeses, seafood or even sweet delicacies, our regional products cooked with love and marked by the history of the region will delight gourmets in search of authentic flavours.

<https://www.tourisme-en-hautsdefrance.com/>
<http://www.hautsdefrance.fr/>
<http://www.hautsdefrance.fr/escapades/>
<http://www.hautsdefrance.fr/patrimoine/>
<https://www.weekend-esprithautsdefrance.com/>