The UPJV is a multidisciplinary university offering 128 degrees, from undergraduate degrees in technology (Bachelor) to doctorates, in 4 major fields:

Arts, Literature, Languages
Law, Economics, Management
Humanities and Social Sciences
Science, Technology, Health

Linked to the institution's 36 research units, these courses are at the cutting edge of current knowledge and know-how. They enable the training of highly qualified executives who go on to understand and solve the problems of the modern world.

Present in 6 cities in the Hauts-de-France region, the UPJV is a university rooted in its territory. As a major player in regional development, the UPJV boosts the regional economy both through its innovative scientific research and through the training of managers who are experts in their fields.

Since its creation in 1969, the UPJV has promoted the values of humanism and sharing, which are the mainstays of its openness to the world. Today, the UPJV is a partner of more than 700 universities from 100 countries and a member of several prestigious international networks.

The 36 research units in science, health, and human and social sciences of the UPJV are involved in numerous large-scale regional, national and international projects, ensuring the worldwide visibility of the UPJV's research potential.

In partnership with institutions and companies, its laboratories carry out innovative research that meets the needs of a rapidly changing society. The UPJV is recognised nationally and internationally for the excellence of its research in the following fields:

Energy self-sufficiency
Environment
Agro-resources
Culture and heritage
Social innovation
Digital
E-Health

The UPJV implements a quality welcome and integration policy for its international students, as evidenced by its "Bienvenue en France" (Campus France), Euraxess and Qualité FLE labels.

Administrative support, personalised welcome, French as a foreign language courses, socio-cultural activities... A wide range of services have been set up to help you integrate and make a success of your mobility!

Ideally located between Paris, London and Brussels, the UPJV offers a human-scale environment where it is good to live and study. Committed to the development of its students and staff, the UPJV facilitates access to culture and sports activities, in line with the local socio-cultural policy.

Welcoming and authentic, the Hauts-de-France region attracts 9.26 million visitors each year with its heritage treasures, including nature, history, culture, architecture and gastronomy...
