If you are a national of a country in the European Economic Area (EEA = European Union (EU) countries and Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway), you do not need a student visa to study, do an internship in France or work during your studies (within the limit of a 964-hour contract per year).

You must be covered by a sickness and maternity insurance and have sufficient resources to support yourself.

If you are from Turkey, United Kingdom or the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, you must apply for a visa. Contact the French Embassy in your country to find out about the administrative procedures.

For more information, see the section "The different types of visas" on the Campus France website and the France-Visa website, the official website for visas to France. See also our "VISAS" section.

Naliia Vakulenko, originally from Ukraine, was a student exchange student at the UPJV through the Erasmus+ programme. On the occasion of the 30th anniversary of the programme, celebrated in 2017, she testifies to the importance of this extraordinary opportunity for academic exchange.

The new Erasmus+ App is a mobile application for Erasmus+ participants which will put the whole mobility experience at the fingertips of young people. The objective of the project is to render mobility easy, accessible and at arm's reach for every user while promoting innovation and digitalisation in the long run.

MUNDUS MESC+

Erasmus Mundus
Joint Master Degree

Commission européenne

Your contact: Jamila TAMIMY - jamila.tamimy@u-picardie.fr

Students with a Bachelor's degree may have the opportunity to join the UPJV through a scientific academic course of excellence in the field of Energy: the Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degree "Materials for Energy Storage and Conversion" (MESC+). This two-year Master's programme, supported by the European Commission through the Erasmus+ programme, is characterised by an imposed mobility scheme between partner universities.

Several partners are involved in the MESC+:

- 5 European universities in France, Poland, Slovenia and Spain (Amiens, Toulouse, Warsaw, Ljubljana, Bilbao)
- 1 university in US (Drexel)
- 1 university in Australia (Deakin)
- 1 European research institute (ALISTORE)
- the French network on energy storage (RS2E)
- the Slovenian National Institute of Chemistry (NIC)
- 1 research centre in Spain (CIC Energigune)

MESC+ is led by members of several world-class research laboratories in the field of energy-related materials. They are all working closely together in several European and trans-European projects.

This Master programme welcomes every year around 30 students from different continents, selected on specific academic criteria that may give them the chance to be awarded a scholarship up to 39.000€. As it is entirely taught in English, a B2+ level is required.

ISEP

If your university is a member of the ISEP programme \(International Student Exchange Programs\), you can apply for a study period at the UPJV. As a native speaker, you will be offered the opportunity to join the Maison des Langues (Language Centre) team, upon your arrival, for cultural and recreational add-on activities in English.

Your contact: Mélanie ALVES, ISEP Host Coordinator -melanie.alves@u-picardie.fr

To correctly prepare your application, we invite you to follow the steps below:

The International Relations department of your university (Study Abroad Advisor or Home ISEP Coordinator) and the International Relations pedagogical coordinator of your field of study can inform you about the advantages of an ISEP mobility, help you to constitute the ISEP file, and advise you on the UPJV training which will correspond to your personalised professional path.

You will be able to put together your application by following these 6 steps:

Create your ISEP account on the ISEP Global website: <https://www.isepstudyabroad.org/planning/how-to-apply>

Ask your Study Abroad Office for information. Your advisor or home ISEP coordinator will be able to help you complete the application form and advise you on the application procedures.

Start your online application before the deadlines: 15 February for a stay in the 1st semester or academic year - 1st September for a stay in the 2nd semester.

Make sure your credits are transferred. We recommend that you check with your Home ISEP coordinator or study abroad advisor to understand how your university will transcribe credits for subjects taken at UPJV.

Prepare your application documents: letter of recommendation, transcripts, language test, letter of motivation and upload them to your online application space via your account that you have previously created.

Submit your application online via the ISEP portal: <https://www.isepstudyabroad.org>

Once you have submitted your application, your ISEP coordinator at the UPJV will study your file and send you a complete package with all the necessary information for your stay in Amiens
